Lecturer/Senior Lecturer in Surgical Care Practice

Faculty of Medical Science
Based in Chelmsford
£31,656 - £46,414 p.a.

Ref: 000074-11

Our vibrant, modern University is gaining prominence both nationally and internationally and we have ambitious plans for our future. Our main campuses in the cities of Cambridge, Chelmsford and Peterborough have been transformed with major capital investments. With an annual turnover of £200m and over 39,000 students, we are a major force for higher education in the East of England.

The Faculty of Medical Science is the newest of our University's five faculties. The Faculty of Medical Science builds on the strong national and international reputation of our flagship Postgraduate Medical Institute (PMI) and is committed to further developing our teaching, learning and research expertise in allied and public health, postgraduate medicine and healthcare science. As such, we have recently invested in new state-of-the-art laboratories and training facilities.

The Department of Medicine & Healthcare Science is seeking a committed, motivated and experienced Surgical Care Practitioner who may be a Registered Nurse. You'll be required to lead the delivery of our MSc in Surgical Care Practice, and have extensive knowledge and experience of perioperative care and, in particular surgery, to contribute to our ambitious plans to grow a portfolio of theatre-focussed modules.

You'll have a Higher degree and if you do not already have a PhD or Professional Doctorate you'll be required to register to undertake one within 18 months of commencing employment.

This appointment is subject to an enhanced level disclosure from the Disclosure and Barring Service.

It is expected that the interviews will take place on 12 August 2016.

Closing date: 31 July 2016.

Patient Safety & Quality Lead

Harrogate, North Yorkshire - Competitive Salary

Do you have the knowledge and skills to support AfPP as our Patient Safety & Quality Lead?

If so, you could be just who we are looking for!

The role will be a full time position working from our HQ offices in Harrogate. You will be required to provide professional (clinical, health and/or education) advice, support, representation and service development relating to quality and patient safety to meet the needs of members and key stakeholders.

This is an important support role for many areas of AfPP's business. With clear, concise and positive communication skills, you will build and maintain meaningful and productive professional working relationships at all levels.

Your role will extend to providing a complex professional advice and educational/development service and you will therefore, require extensive, detailed and up to date knowledge of perioperative standards, practices and techniques.

With a thorough and up to date awareness of the changing healthcare environment, in particular those matters and policies impacting upon perioperative practitioners, you will be asked to use your professional expertise to inform and advise professional services and business development opportunities, particularly around quality and patient safety.

For an application form and information pack, please contact Sally Exelby on 01423 882952 or email sally.exelby@afpp.org.uk.

About us - The Association for Perioperative Practice (AfPP) is the UK's leading membership association for operating theatre practitioners. For over 50 years, we have supported our members by providing standards and guidance, expert training and professional advice to enable them to be the best they can be. They share our passion for excellence and together we contribute towards improving patient safety in theatres by creating a strong unified voice for setting standards of practice and care. ## Trustee Vacancy

Becoming a Trustee is a great challenge that brings with it the opportunity to apply the skills and experience you have gained to a new environment. Working as part of the AfPP Board can be satisfying and rewarding, but it will challenge you and your colleagues. As a Trustee of AfPP you can help to improve patient care and change the environment within which our members work. Being involved at AfPP will provide you with the opportunities to take brave steps to broaden your horizons.

Nominations are sought from eligible candidates who are willing to stand for election to fill the vacancy that will arise in January 2017.

If you are interested in joining our dedicated team of Trustees, please visit our website for more detailed information together with a nomination form for completion.

To discuss the role in more detail, please contact Stephanie Oates on 01423 882968 or email: Stephanie.oates@afpp.org.uk

All nomination papers must be received by 5pm on Friday 29 July 2016.
