

The Association for Perioperative Practice Regional Study Day Sponsorship

Maximise your networking opportunities and gain brand and product awareness by sponsoring one of AfPP's highly respected Study Days. Our event audience consists of a broad spectrum of perioperative healthcare professionals at various stages in their careers. This includes theatre nurses, ODPs, theatre practitioners, theatre support workers, nursing associates, managers and students.

AfPP run a programme of Study Days across the country designed to educate, challenge and inform. They present a great opportunity for suppliers and recruiters to network in an informal educational setting whilst demonstrating latest products and technologies to those in a position to influence procurement decisions.

Study Day dates and topics are available by contacting our events team on

In addition to the exhibitor package, the headline sponsor package includes:
