Dear Mona

21st August 2015

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you, as Association of Perioperative Practice representative on the Surgical Safety Patient Safety Expert Group for your recent input and support in the development of the Patient Safety Alert addressing antimicrobial resistance through implementation of an antimicrobial stewardship programme that was recently issued.

It is really important for NHS England's work in patient safety that we receive advice from expert patients, clinicians, commissioners and managers in determining whether Patient Safety Alerts are the most appropriate means of addressing specific patient safety issues and if determined necessary that their content and actions are relevant.

We also value support from the organisations with whom we work in partnership in the dissemination and implementation of Alerts, and would be grateful if you can help raise awareness of this particular Alert through your own networks.

Please accept my best wishes,

Dr Mike Durkin
Director of Patient Safety
NHS England
